Learn to paint in oil, watercolor, or acrylic!

Autumn in New York, Oil on Linen

Beets, Watercolor on Fabriano Artistic 300 lb paper

Island-Scape, Acrylic on Canvas

Classes on Tuesdays and Wednesdays

Tuesdays and Wednesdays are my teaching days. Classes are 2 ½ hours and occur at 10 am, 1:30 pm, or 6 pm. Watercolor classes are separate from oil and acrylic classes.

Each class includes discussion of a key concept or technique demonstration followed by student painting time with teacher interaction and class discussion.

Students paint the still life or floral arrangement provided or use subject matter/photographs of their choice.

New students can join an existing class at any time—no need to wait until a new session starts. We will discuss your experience and goals and then tailor an approach within a group setting for you.

Rate: $30/class, $230/8 class session

Workshops for Faster Progress

QuickStart to Painting with Media

Exploration—suggested for all students, $150, all supplies included. A number of important art tools are also given to each student.

Full-day workshop. Covers art fundamentals, including composition, value and color theory, sketching methods, and painting tools/techniques—all topics important to help emerging students achieve success.

Class exercises using watercolor, acrylic, and oil are used to reinforce key concepts and also to help students decide what media they want to explore in the future.

Watercolor JumpStart Workshop—for those learning watercolor, $110, all supplies included.

6 hours of demonstrations and student hands-on practice in watercolor painting techniques.
